The following highlights about Showcase baseball should aid in determining your interest, availability and commitment.

ZLL Showcase Baseball is.....

- an excellent development experience for the player with high level of baseball interest and more advanced skills, along with parents committed to support this interest
- will not conflict with recreational season practices or games
- a season of games played against teams from other communities throughout central Indiana
- requires additional practice dates to learn advanced game situation skills
- typically scheduled to play games on Sunday afternoons and evenings from late April thru June, or on weekends when the ZLL recreation teams are not scheduled to play
- self-funding, thus requires an additional fee above league registration
- advanced learning and instruction oriented in a competitive play environment

ZLL Showcase Baseball is NOT.....

- a guarantee to play on post-season all-star teams, as all-star teams are selected based on player performance and attitude during recreation season play, along with tournament availability

ZLL Showcase baseball intends to accommodate as many players as there is interest. if interest at any age level greatly exceeds reasonable roster sizes, then multiple teams will be created. Tryouts and evaluations will be necessary for roster selection. Evaluation dates are scheduled in anticipation of a need to select teams and are listed on the ZLL web site. Team selection is made by independent evaluations. Managers for teams are named after teams are selected.
